Scary games but not too horror. Stuff like The Mimic is too scary for me. Well-made ones like Doors are what I'm looking for.

So far I enjoyed Flashlight Tag, Build a Boat for Treasure, Bee Swarm Simulator, and Tennis game on [REDACTED]. I'm in my 20s so it needs to be something that adults can enjoy. But I don't like grinding games. Bee Swarm Simulator was an exception because it's just very high quality.

My brother and I both started playing [REDACTED] since 2008 but ever since he moved overseas it's been one of our ways to bond. But lately, we've been having a hard time sifting through front page garbage. It all seems low effort and we usually end up giving up. He really likes 3008, Shadowboxing, Doors & Murder Mystery, & Restaurant Tycoon. we avoid shooters because i'm trash at them lol. What are some genuinely good, not childish games I can surprise my brother with? :) Btw he plays xbox and i play pc. so compatibility there is appreciated.
